Your grade: 100%
Your latest: 100%•Your highest: 100%•To pass you need at least 80%. We keep your highest score.

1.What keyword is used to create a function in Python?

⚪ var

⚪ func

🔘 def

⚪ for

✓ Correct
Correct, the def keyword is used for creating new functions in Python.

2.What function in Python allows you to output data onto the screen?

⚪ input()

🔘 print()

⚪ output()

⚪ while

✓ Correct
Correct - the print function is used for printing data in the console.

3.A variable that is declared inside a function cannot be accessed from outside the function?

🔘 True

⚪ False

✓ Correct
Correct – The variable is only accessible from inside the function scope.

4.Which of the declarations is correct when creating a for loop?

⚪ for while in:

🔘 for x in items:

⚪ for in items:

⚪ for if in items:

✓ Correct
Correct! The x here is a temporary variables iterating over items data structure.

5.What error will be thrown from the below code snippet?

```
1    nums = 34
2    for i in nums:
3        print(i)
```

⚪ Exception

⚪ MemoryError

🔘 TypeError: 'int' object is not iterable

⚪ FloatingPointError

✓ Correct
Correct – the output function does not exist.